About us

Founded in 1857, the University of Calcutta is one of India's oldest universities. It was the first university east of Suez and a pioneer of many "firsts" in Indian higher education. The university established landmark institutions in medicine, science, women's education, and museums. It is associated with Nobel laureates like Rabindranath Tagore, C. V. Raman, Mother Teresa, Amartya Sen and Abhijit Vinayak Banerjee.

RUSA 2.0 is a centrally sponsored scheme of the Ministry of Education (formerly MHRD), Government of India, aimed at strengthening state universities and their affiliated colleges. It focuses on improving access, equity, and quality in higher education through planned and targeted development at the state level.
