Session: 2023-24

Name of Activity: "Tear the Stage Fear"

Organized on: 09 /09/2023

Organized by: Department of Computer Science

Venue: AV Room

Students involved: BCA & PGDCA

"Tear the Stage Fear" Extempore Competition was held on 09/09023 in AVA room and organized by Computer Science Department, with the primary goal of providing a supportive platform for individuals to confront and overcome their stage fear and boost their confidence in public speaking and performing.

Teachers offered few topics for the "Tear the Stage Fear" competition. The topics were G20, Chandrayan-3, Student Suicides - The Root Cause, Electrical Vehicle in India, Impact of Social Media, Benefits of reading a Book, etc. Participants could choose a topic from these chits at random and were given 10 minutes to prepare it. These topics covered a wide range of subjects, allowing participants to choose a topic that resonates with them and challenges them to overcome their stage fear effectively.

One of our students discussed that, Benefits of Reading Books not only enhances our knowledge but also improves our vocabulary, critical thinking skills etc. He added to make reading a habit that nurtures our minds and contributes to our personal growth. Another one interesting topic selected by a student was Student Suicides-the Root Cause. The student explained about the major factors for student suicides - the fear of failure, the competition, and the expectations from parents and society.

It was great to see that students were providing wonderful responses in the stage daring program and sharing valuable information with everyone. Effective public speaking not only helps individuals overcome their stage fear but also serves as a means of educating and inspiring others.

The activity received positive feedback from all the students who enjoyed it. The event was carefully planned and executed by all the teachers of the Computer Science Department. Mrs. Abhilasha Khare's note of gratitude marked the end of the session.

Phonetic Session

REPORT

The phonetic session conducted for B.Ed. students from January 15 to January 18, 2024, aimed to enhance their understanding and proficiency in phonetics, a crucial aspect of language teaching. As an alumnus with expertise in linguistics and language teaching, Alumnus Mrs. Deepika Gidwani was invited to facilitate this session and share her knowledge and experience with the aspiring educators.

Objectives:

1. Introduce the basics of phonetics and its significance in language teaching.
2. Familiarize students with the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) symbols.
3. Enhance students' ability to recognize and produce phonetic sounds accurately.
4. Provide practical activities and exercises to reinforce learning.

Session Overview:

The phonetics session spanned four days and covered a range of topics designed to deepen students' knowledge and practical skills in phonetics. Led by Deepika Gidwani, an expert in linguistics and language teaching, the session provided a structured approach to learning phonetic principles.

Day 1: Introduction to Phonetics

The session commenced with an introduction to the fundamentals of phonetics and its significance in language teaching. Deepika Gidwani elucidated the basics of articulatory phonetics, emphasizing the production of speech sounds and the classification of consonants and vowels. Additionally, students were introduced to the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) and its role in representing sounds across languages.

Day 2: Phonemic Awareness and Pronunciation Practice

On the second day, students delved into phonemic awareness and pronunciation practice. Deepika Gidwani facilitated discussions on phonemes and allophones, highlighting their importance in distinguishing meaning in languages. Practical exercises were conducted to help students identify phonemic contrasts and practice pronunciation, focusing on common problematic areas encountered by English language learners.

Day 3: Application in Language Teaching

Day three centered on the practical application of phonetics in language teaching. Deepika Gidwani shared various pedagogical strategies and techniques to integrate phonetics effectively into the classroom. Activities such as dictation, minimal pair exercises, and pronunciation games were explored to engage students actively in phonetic learning.

Day 4: Assessment and Conclusion

The final day included a review of the concepts covered throughout the session and an assessment to evaluate students' understanding of phonetics. Deepika Gidwani conducted assessments encompassing identifying IPA symbols, transcribing words phonemically, and analyzing pronunciation errors. Feedback was provided to students to highlight areas of improvement and commend their strengths. The session concluded with a reflection on the significance of phonetics in language teaching and encouragement for students to continue practicing and refining their phonetic skills.

Conclusion:

The phonetics session conducted by Deepika Gidwani for B.Ed. students from January 15 to January 18, 2024, provided a comprehensive and structured approach to learning phonetic principles. Through theoretical discussions, practical exercises, and interactive activities, students gained valuable insights and enhanced their proficiency in phonetic analysis and pronunciation. The session's positive impact on students' learning experience was evident through their active participation and engagement.

Resource Person: Prof. Sanjay Kumar, Head and Dean, Faculty of CSIT, PRSU, Raipur

Organized on: 28/08/2023

Organized by: Department of Computer Science

Venue: AV Room

Students involved: BCA & PGDCA

The Department of Computer Science had organized a Guest Lecture on "Green Computing". This Guest Lecture was conducted for BCA & PGDCA students. The aim of the guest lecture on Green Computing is to educate and raise awareness about the environmental impact of technology and computing, and to inspire individuals to adopt sustainable practices in their use of technology. The Resource Person for this Guest Lecture was Prof. Sanjay Kumar, Head and Dean, Faculty of Computer and Information Technology, Pt. Ravishankar Shukla University, Raipur.

Head of the Department Mrs. Pooja Rathi commenced the program with the brief introduction of Prof. Sanjay Kumar. In her address she informed the students about the topic and discussed how important this subject is for societal benefits.

Prof. Sanjay Kumar began the lecture by highlighting the urgent need for Green Computing in today's technologically-driven society. He emphasized how exponential growth in the use of electronic devices such as computers, smart phones, and servers has resulted in a significant increase in energy consumption and carbon dioxide (CO_2) emissions. By adopting Green Computing practices, we can reduce our environmental impact and contribute to sustainable development. He discussed the concept of sustainable development and how it relates to Green Computing. He stressed the importance of balancing economic growth with environmental conservation and social responsibilities. This involves minimizing resource consumption, adopting renewable energy sources, and ensuring proper e-waste management.

Principal of the college Dr. Kuldeep Dubey and Vice Principal Dr. G. Padma Gouri expressed their gratitude to Prof. Sanjay Kumar by Presenting Thank You Memento.
