T.I.M.E. GMAT® Exam ACHIEVERS

The Graduate Management Admission Test® (GMAT®) Exam examination is a standardized test designed to measure an aspirant's aptitude for business studies at graduate school. This test has been administered, for over 50 years, in more than 150 countries around the world by the GMAC (Graduate Management Admission Council).

The GMAT® Exam score is based on a range of 200 (minimum) to 800 (maximum). The scoring pattern is on an increment of 10 points.

The exam is administered on any day, except on Sundays and National Holidays. To register for the exam, the student has to visit www.mba.com. About the GMAT® Exam: The fee for GMAT® Exam is USD 150. 15-60 days before the test date by paying USD 100 and More than 60 days before the test date by paying USD 50.

If student cancels test then the refund amount would be: USD 50 when cancelled 14 days and less before appointment, USD 75 when cancelled between 15-60 days before appointment and USD 100 when cancelled more than 60 days before appointment. Appointment cannot be rescheduled or cancelled within 24 hours of the scheduled appointment time if done then the entire exam fee will be forfeited. GMAT® Exam score is valid for 5 years. Students will have to view their unofficial GMAT score prior to making a decision to accept or cancel them. You will have 72 hours to cancel your score online via your MBA.com account for a USD 25 fine.

The GMAT® Exam allows the candidate to send score to FIVE B-Schools/Programs after taking the test and before getting the final scores. Further payment of USD 35 should be made to send scores to additional B-schools. It is recommended that test takers decide which schools they wish to apply to even before appearing for the test during the preparation of exam. GMAT® Exam scores come after 21 working days. However, raw score of IR, Verbal and Quant is available immediately after the exam.

GMAT® Exam can be taken 5 times in a year with a gap of minimum 16 days. Passport is mandatory to take the GMAT® Exam. Any score above 700 is considered as a good score.

GMAT™ Online Exam?

The GMAT™ online exam is a remote proctored version of the test center-based GMAT™ exam designed to help students meet their application goals – from the comfort of their home. Students have the option to take the GMAT™ Exam online or at a test center – or both – the choice is his!

Appointments are available around the clock and testing dates are available 6-months out on a rolling basis. The GMAT™ online exam can be taken on a Windows or Mac computer, and features:

- 4 full exam sections: Quantitative, Verbal, Integrated Reasoning, and the Analytical Writing Assessment (AWA) section
- Same time, scoring, and number of items as the test center-based exam
- Flexibility to use a physical or an online whiteboard for scratch work • Disability accommodations
- Accepted by over 7,000 global business programs • Scores valid for 5 years
- Complimentary unlimited score report sending • Adhar card can be used instead of a passport

Who are eligible to write GMAT® Exam?

Graduates, Undergraduates and Working Professionals.

The ideal time to start GMAT® Exam preparation is minimum one year prior to the intake dates.

Here's how it works:

- If a test taker accepts his/her scores, the official report will be sent to the schools they selected.
- In addition, if the test taker cancels the score, there is no report which is generated. However the test taker can reinstate the cancelled score. The fee to reinstate a cancelled score is $50 (additional $10 fee will apply if reinstated by phone). Any valid GMAT exam taken on or after January 1, 2014 will be eligible for reinstatement. Going forward, cancelled scores can be reinstated up to 4 years and 11 months of the exam date

Pick up your unofficial score report

If you accepted your scores, please pick up a printed copy of your unofficial score report at the front desk. This contains an authentication code which you will need to access your official scores. Please note that this is the only time you will receive this code.

What is a Computer Adaptive Test?

Computer Adaptive Test is a test which indicates that the test adapts itself to the correctness / in correctness of your responses. The first few questions in Verbal Ability and Quantitative sections are of moderate difficulty. With correct responses, the level of difficulty increases, and conversely - with incorrect responses, the level of difficulty decreases. The score does not depend only on the number of correct and incorrect answers. It also depends on the difficulty level of the questions encountered. The weightage for tougher questions is more than that for the easier questions. The test is administered on the computer and the questions have to be tackled in the order in which they appear. You cannot skip a question, neither can you revert to an earlier question to change the answer. However, Integrated Reasoning is not computer adaptive. It is essential that all questions are completed as there is a heavy penalty for the questions not attempted. These factors make time management very critical in GMAT® Exam.

Details of the GMAT® Exam

1. AWA - Analytical Writing Assessment

The task is that of analysing an argument, which is presented as a short passage that the test-taker has to evaluate and present his/her critique. The test-taker does not require any in-depth knowledge of the argument topic, but the test taker's capacity to write analytically is assessed.

- Time - 30 mins.
- Score Range - 0 to 6

2. Integrated Reasoning (IR) Section

The four question types in the IR Section are:

- Graphic Interpretation, that tests ability to understand graphs and draw inferences from them.
- Two Part Analysis, that measures ability to understand relationship between two entities.
- Multi-Source Reasoning, that measures ability to assemble information from multiple sources of information. The sources can be tables, graphs, emails etc.

- Total Time: 30 mins
- On-screen calculator will be provided only for this section.
- Time - 30 mins.
- Number of questions - 12
- Scale score - 1 to 8

Types of Management Programs

MIM - Management Program for Freshers

Masters in Management (MIM) is a postgraduate Program in general management. It is an ideal course for fresh graduates and anyone in the age group of 21-24 years. One can take up this course directly anywhere between 12 and 20 months. Europe is the geographical area where Masters in Management is most common. However, with an increasing demand for the program, USA and some Asian countries have also started offering this program. MIM course fees are much less than those of an MBA Program.

Deferred MBA

Deferred MBA Program is typically designed for the young college seniors who are absolutely certain of their professional goals and for whom the MBA is a definite path to those goals. For a deferred MBA program the applicant has to work for minimum 2 years before he can attend the regular class.

Global MBA - People with 2+ years work experience

Global MBA is a postgraduate Program in general management which offers specialisation in a particular field. It is the ideal Program for exceptional individuals who want to fast-track their career in an international environment.

Executive MBA - People with 9+ years work experience

EMBA is essentially an abridged and customised MBA Program, where the average student profile is slightly different.

The EMBA Program is designed for mid-career executives at pivotal junctures in their careers.

Sloan Fellowship Program - People with 10+ years work experience

The Sloan Fellowship Program is a mid-career masters degree in general management and leadership. A minimum of 10 years of work experience is required to apply for the Sloan Fellowship Program. It is offered by the MIT - London School of Management, The London Business School and The Stanford-Graduates School of Business.

Masters in Management - Management Program for Freshers

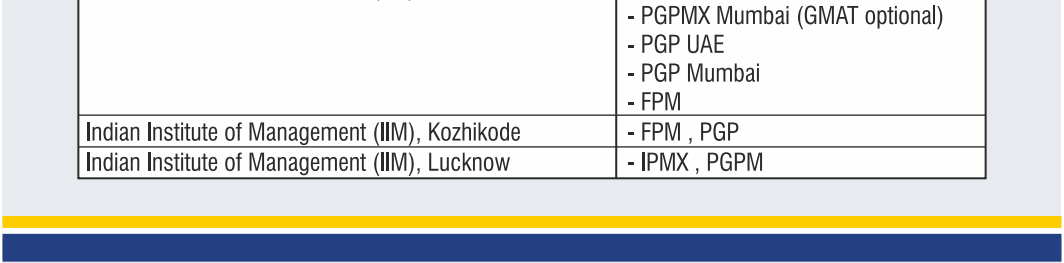

(Work experience between 0-2 years)

Masters in Management (MIM) is a postgraduate Program in general management. It is an ideal course for fresh graduates and anyone in the age group of 21-24 years. One can take up this course directly anywhere between 12 and 20 months. Europe is the geographical area where Masters in Management is most common. However, with an increasing demand for the program, USA and some Asian countries have also started offering this program. MIM course fees are much less than those of an MBA Program.

The MIM course portfolio covers a broad range of business topics like Marketing, Project Management, Human Resource Management, IT Management, etc. MIM curriculum contains personality development and leadership courses as well as seminars, case studies and teamwork sessions.

Masters in Management enables candidates to become competent professional managers. Besides garnering the opportunity, leadership skills, and international experience, one would also have the opportunity to apply them in a real-world business environment.

To apply for an MIM Program, one should have a Bachelor's degree along with the required GMAT® Exam score and the requisite English language skills.

How T.I.M.E. helps you prepare for the GMAT® Exam

Designed for Indian Students:

Over the years, we have coached over 25 lakh students for various competitive examinations and have developed a deep understanding of the strengths and weaknesses of Indian graduates, which are very different from those of American students. Unlike other coaching Programs available in the market, our GMAT® Exam program is made specifically for Indian students.

Comprehensive Study Material:

Our study material includes 90 online sectional practice tests and 8 full length computer-based tests and 10 full-length computer adaptive tests.

Apart from this, students also receive study material that comprehensively covers all the concepts required for the GMAT® Exam and provides sufficient practice through mock tests.

Assistance in SOP / Application Essay Writing:

We assist students in the most important part of their application process – the Statement of Purpose (SOP). Apart from providing classroom inputs, we personally guide candidates during various stages of the SOP's progress to help better craft it.

Highly satisfactory experience for GMAT at T.I.M.E. Provided with the best faculty and T.I.M.E. was also helpful and effective for practice. Counsellors & faculty - supportive & always willing to help. Phenomenal personal guidance!

Aditya Khanna, GMAT Score: 770, Final Selection: ISB (Hyd)

Exceptional experience of preparation! Interactive classes, each doubt resolved! Irreplaceable classes of CR and DI in the combo batch. Dedicated and easily accessible faculty and support staff. Comprehensive material.

T. Shreyas Balaji, GMAT Score: 760

T.I.M.E. assisted me in the ISB Young Leaders' Program. The first session was a group session, which included a brief review on Resume Writing and Case-Study Analysis. We were also told the various resources and areas to touch upon for the preparation of our final interview. In my first interview I was told to prepare specific areas and research on my future goals after MBA.
