CRITERION 2

2.3.2. ICT enabled teaching and learning

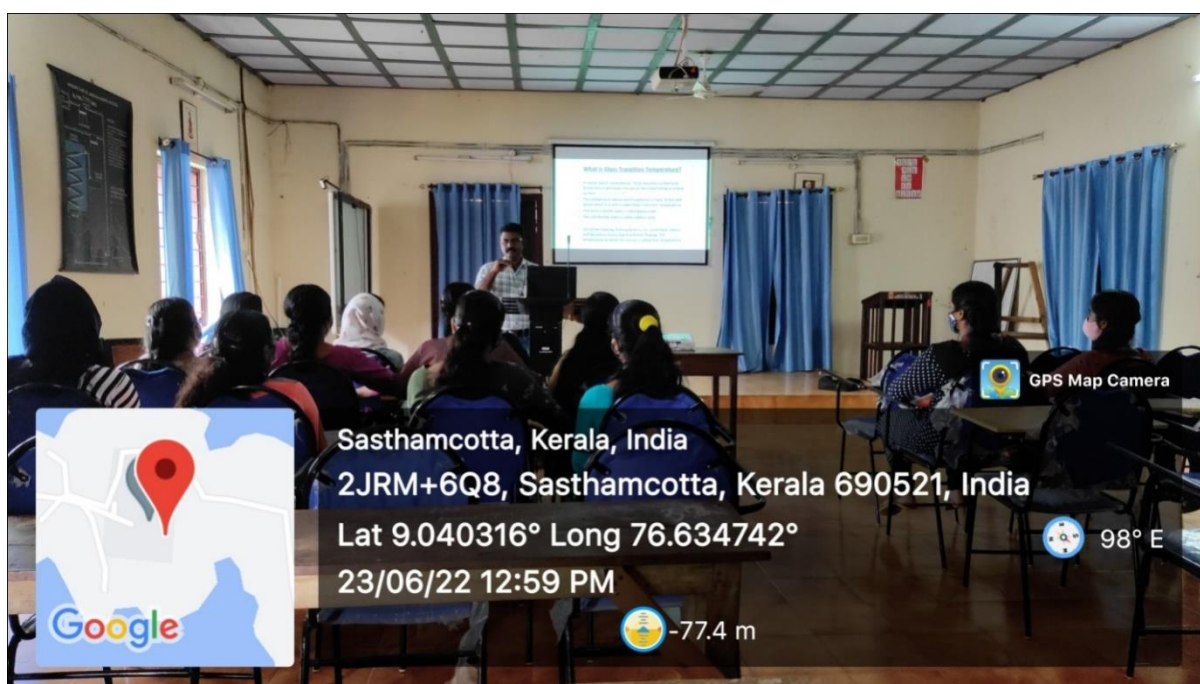

ICT enabled teaching and learning

In keeping with the demands of the new pedagogy, teachers extensively complement their teaching process with ICT resources which makes the teaching learning process more effective, especially in the pandemic-stricken environment and later, ICT resources were more relied upon. ICT competent teaching ensures student involvement thereby shifting from a teacher centred pedagogy to a learner centred methodology.

ICT enabled classrooms-

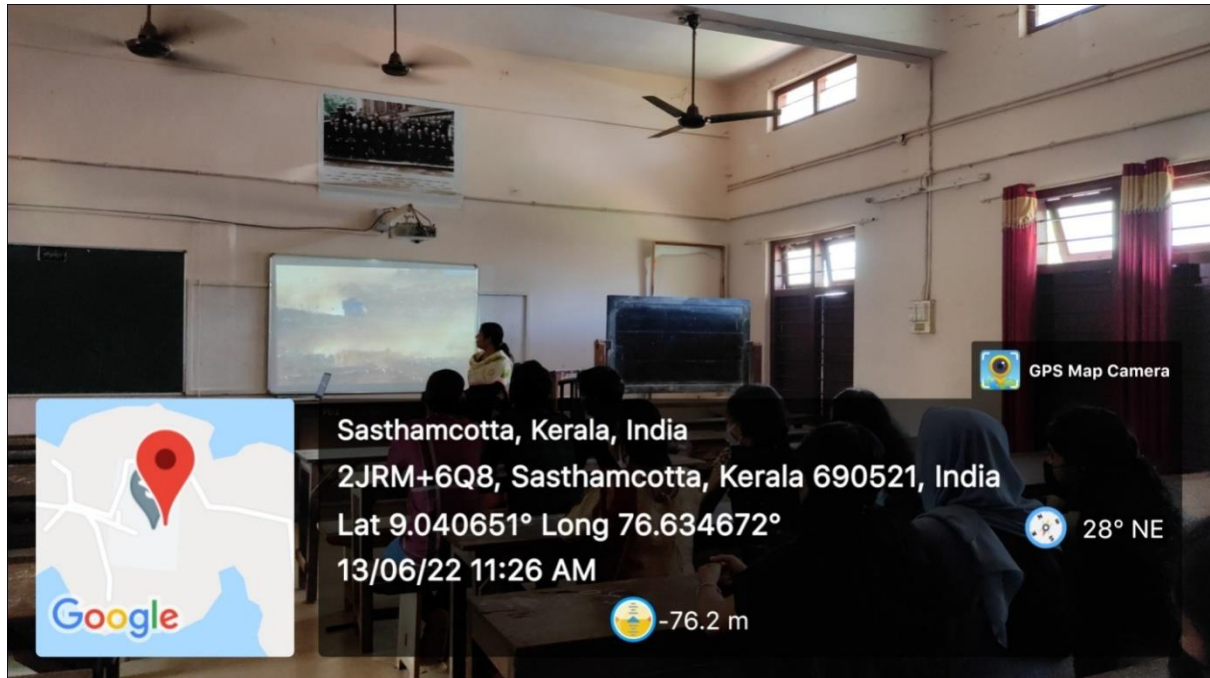

Every department is equipped with ICT enabled classroom using which the learning process of the students are enhanced.

ICT materials used for teaching

Online tools such as youtube channels are created by teachers to bring the learning experience to the proximity of the learners. Blogs are used as an effective means of online communication and exchange of ideas related to courses and general topics that are tangential to the subject of study of the learners.

Video presentations of lectures, with PowerPoint presentations give a real classroom effect for the students. Students are also encouraged to present seminars and assignments using ICT tools like PowerPoint, as part of their course requirements.

GOOGLE CLASSROOM FOR CLASS ROOM MANAGEMENT

ICT is now integrated into teaching learning process, as the digital era demands much more than conventional chalk and talk method. Learning Management Softwares like Google classroom, mangle are used in teaching and evaluation.

Students go through a digital version of the classroom - Google classroom where the teacher uploads notes, lectures, links of relevant sites and materials which the learners can access at their convenience and learn at their individualized pace. Thus was a necessity to combat the learning hurdles posed by the nationwide pandemic, and is also used to supplement offline classes in a proportionate manner. Use of this Learner Management System helps in proper monitoring and overall classroom management.
