"One word to define Smita, She is "outstanding". First of all, I would like to thanks Smita for giving me training on personality development. I really feel blessed for being taught by her. During the tenure of my training, I started noticing change in myself. My thought process and my approach to see the things differently and my mindset were the key things that has really improved. The best part of her training is , every statement she makes deserves billion bucks and is worth to change one's life and can make them successful. Now, it is one's ability to collect/gain whatever they can from the unlimited knowledge she posses. "

"Before this course, I was not able to give my choices a strong "Yes" But now I do. Ever since we started working together, I've felt more positive, learn to say NO , making "TO DO " list , being calm even when frustrated ! in short you just moulded my life into much positive and inspiring manner! I have really benefited from our work together as I've remain committed to what I say, understand other person's feelings, demand our rights ,making my own choices important too and don't let them influenced by other people, and most important, Self valuation! Thankyou! :)
