Engage	Refer to slide 1 Write the word question on the board and have students talk to a shoulder partner about what they think it means. Collect student answers, and confirm and correct as needed. Explain that we ask questions for several reasons. Prompt learners to come up with different types of questions they ask in their everyday lives. Encourage them to reflect on the type of information they hope to gain prior to writing each question. Share that most questions start with the same six words: who, what, when, where, why, and how. Explain to students that in some questions they have to do a text to self connection and answer the questions.

Explore and Explain	Have students read the passage individually first. Debrief with them once they finish and gather a fair idea about their understanding of the passage. If they cannot read the passage, the teacher must read the passage. Have students use their pointers to track your reading. Stop after every paragraph and ask them what they understood. Then explain the paragraph to them. Tell students how important it is to ask oneself questions like who is the character? What is happening in the story? etc. to aid comprehension
