The kiwi bird is found only in New Zealand. It is the national bird of New Zealand. There are five kinds of kiwi birds in New Zealand. It is a normal-sized flightless bird. Female kiwis are bigger than males. It has coarse hair like feathers. Dwelling in forests, kiwis sleep by day in burrows. The kiwis like to eat worms, insects, leaves, berries and seeds. The eggs of the kiwis are smooth. They are ivory or greenish white in colour. The kiwi is the only bird in the world that has nostrils at the tip of its bills. So, it has a highly developed sense of smell. They can run swiftly when required; when trapped they use their claws for defense.
