1. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow.

The most beautiful humming birds are found in the West Indies and South America. They are called humming birds because they make a soft, humming noise by the rapid motion of their wings—a motion so rapid, that as they fly, you can hardly see their wings. The crest of its tiny head shines like a sparkling crown of colored light. The shades of color that adorn its breast are equally brilliant. As the bird flits from one object to another, it looks more like a bright flash of sunlight than like a living being. (Para 1)

One day while walking in the woods, I found the nest of one of the smallest hummingbirds. It was about half the size of a very small hen's egg, and it was attached to a twig no thicker than a steel knitting needle. It seemed to have been made of cotton fibers and was covered with the softest bits of leaf and bark. It had two eggs in it, and each was as big as a sugarplum. It is necessary to be careful when you approach the spot where the bird has built its nest. The mother bird will dart at you and try to peck your eyes. Its sharp beak may hurt your eyes quite severely, and even destroy your sight. The poor little thing knows no other way of defending its young, and its instinct tells that you might carry off its nest if you find it. (Para 2)
