Report on: Aasha “We Shall Overcome”

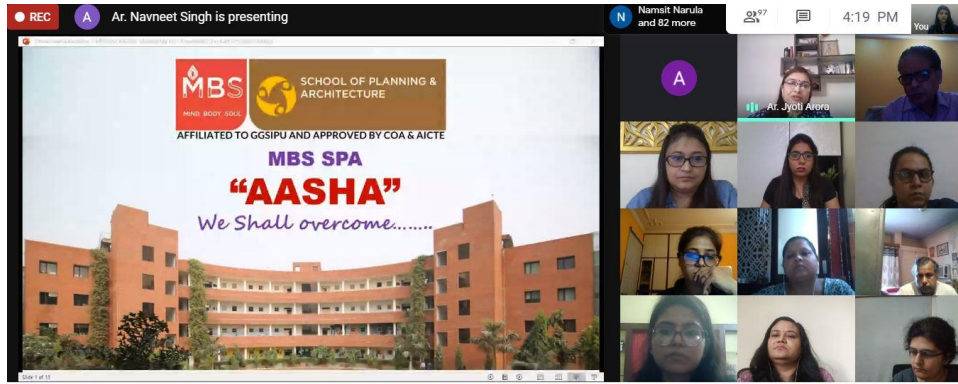

Event Date: 15.05.2021

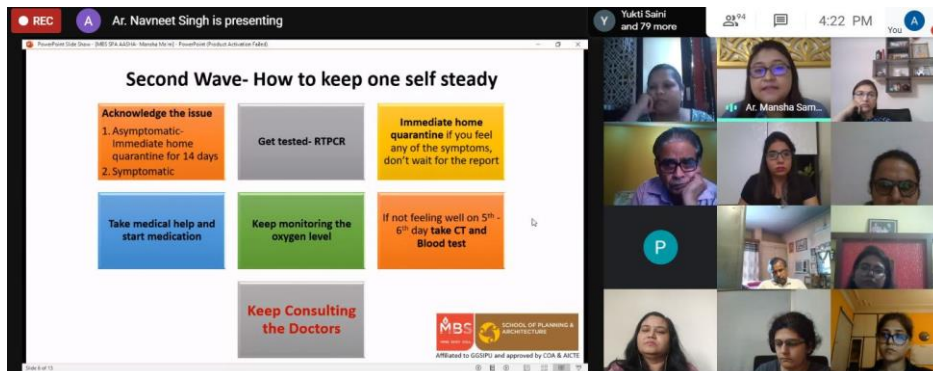

Poster of the online event: Aasha

The two back-to-back waves of the pandemic have shaken the economy of the country enormously and its consequences are experienced by all the families and communities. The loss of precious lives spread all over the country is disturbing, more so when loss is in the immediate or extended family. In situations like this, and to provide moral and emotional support to the family members of the deceased, MBS SPA hosted communion in remembrance of them on 15th May 2021. Two minutes silence was observed in remembrance of the departed souls. This was followed by an Event "AASHA" to drive hope in everyone's lives and help to understand the importance of being competent to handle the unprecedented situation.

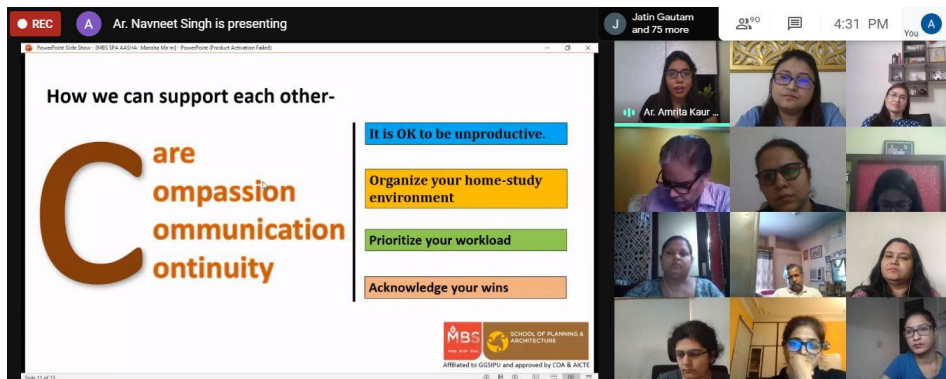

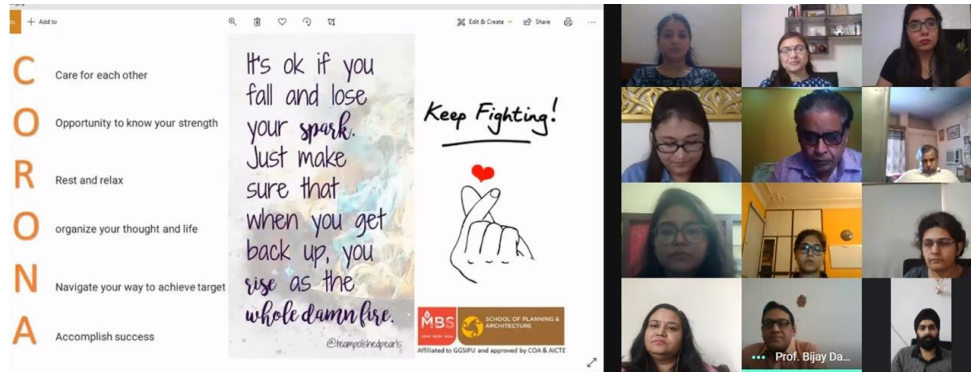

The session was initiated by Ar. Jyoti Arora who provided moral support to those who are in distress and also guided the students to stay strong during the difficult situation.

Ar. Mansha Samreen carried the session forward with an enthusiastic and inspirational presentation. She guided the students to overcome the corona fear and asked them to stay motivated.

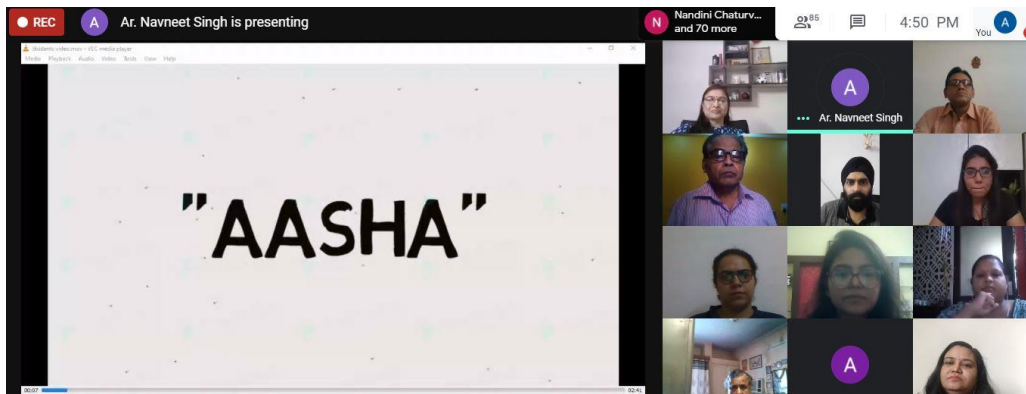

Ar. Amrita Kaur further motivated the students by her inspiring presentation and asked them to strengthen their inner self, to realize the importance of health, to be resilient and to share the resource. To the following note, she kept everyone awestruck with the beautiful writing of Gurbani.

The professional psychologist, Dr. Prabhjeet Narula also guided and motivated the students. Director Dash Sir enlightened the environment with the encouraging words.

Ar. Navneet Singh presented a very special video montage of the beautiful and happy moments that students and faculties have spent together in MBS SPA.

The session ended with a beautiful compilation by the students of second year, hoping for a better time.
