2.A. Read the passage and answer the questions given below. 5

Planning is the first and foremost step in our day to day activities. We have to plan well in advance to fulfill our ambitions and achievements. Planning is essential for making and shaping our 'tomorrows'. Planning brings in us increased awareness for optimum utilization of the available resources men, money, material and time.

In these days of speed, computer etc time has become an essential resource. In such an environment the need for planning becomes more important. Planning requires the support and co - operation of persons concerned in the activities. If there is no systematic and integrated approach in planning process, planning becomes a mockery. Our plans must be realistic and possible to reach with the resources we have, otherwise the whole planning becomes a wishful hunting and day-dreaming.

Questions -

1. Why should we do planning?
2. What has made planning more important?
3. What makes good planning mockery?

Precise Writing:

Write a precise of the following passage: 10

Speech is a great blessing, but it can also be a great curse. For while it helps us to make our intentions and desires known to our fellows, it can also, if we use it carelessly, make our attitude completely misunderstood. A slip of the tongue, the use of an unusual or an ambiguous word and so on, may create an enemy where we had intended to win a friend. Again different classes of people use different vocabularies and the ordinary speech of an educated man may strike an uneducated listener as showing pride, unwillingly we may use a word which bears a different meaning for our listener from what it does to men of our own class. Thus speech is not a gift to use lightly without thought but one which demands careful handling. Only a fool will express himself alike to all kinds and conditions of men.
